

FOOD PRICES HERE STAND COMPARISON WITH THOSE IN S. F.

Food prices in South San Francisco compare favorably with those of San Francisco, according to a survey made by the local Chamber of Commerce. In many cases foodstuffs, especially meat, were found to be lower in price here. For example:

The average price per pound of round steak, grade "A," based on quotations from four shops in San Francisco, is 29 1/2 cents. In South San Francisco it is 25 cents.

Corn beef, grade "A," sells for 20 cents a pound, average, in San Francisco. Here it averages 14 1/2 cents, according to the Chamber of Commerce figures.

A standard brand of ham is selling for an average price of 32 1/2 cents in San Francisco, although the cost here is but 27 2/3 cents per pound.

Phone steaks, as priced at three shops in San Francisco, average 35 2/3 cents. Here they average 32 1/2 cents.

Loin lamb chops are selling for 41 2/3 cents, average, in San Francisco, while local butchers are charging an average price of 35 cents.

Cane sugar varies but little in price as sold in San Francisco and here. This week it sold for 10 cents a pound generally.

One standard brand of coffee is selling for an average price of 48 cents a pound in San Francisco. Here it is priced at 45 cents.

Tomato sauce, a popular sauce sold in small cans, costs 5 cents per can in a majority of stores in either city.

LODGEMEN PARADE THROUGH CITY STREETS

Redmen, Druids Celebrate With Dances, Dinners, and Processions

Two lodges held alternate sway over the city during Saturday and Sunday when the Peninsula Past Sashers' Association of the Redmen and the United Ancient Order of Druids gathered here to conduct their business and to hold festival.

Starting on Saturday evening the Redmen held a dance in Fraternal Hall. Sunday morning they paraded on Grand avenue in all their tribal regalia. Then they went into secret powwow.

With the Redmen out of the way, the Druids took the attention of the city with a parade which was led by Queen Norma Colombo and her court. The Druids staged a free dance in the evening.

Great crowds saw both parades, and the hall was filled each evening for the dances.

The Redmen parade was led by the San Jose band and the San Francisco drum corps, and was exceedingly colorful. Many women marched with their babies in the procession on Grand avenue.

Prizes were awarded to Jack Bonalanza and Adolph Sani of the South City tribe for the best beaded suits worn in the parade. Wetonka Tribe of Los Gatos was given a prize for having the greatest number of men in the parade.

ELECTRIC TROUBLE BRINGS DARKNESS

This city was plunged into darkness at about 8:30 Monday evening when two transformers in the Pacific Gas and Electric Company substation near the Pacific Coast Steel Corporation plant, burned out. Just as the lights winked and went out, two great flashes of light appeared above the power plant.

For practically ten minutes South San Francisco and the entire Peninsula was without light or power. The Board of Trustees, in session in the City Hall before a large audience, had to postpone its business until lights were restored.

COOLIDGE FORCES PLAN CAMPAIGN

A meeting of Coolidge supporters was held in the Industrial Club last night, following a call issued by F. A. Cunningham, local chairman. Plans were made for the rallying of Coolidge forces on election day.

A political meeting to aid the campaign of President Coolidge will be held in the auditorium of the new Burlingame High School tomorrow night, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Dr. James L. Gordon, eminent divine and orator, will deliver an address on "Coolidge the Man." In addition there will be a program of music.

Mrs. E. C. Peck is vice chairman of the South San Francisco Coolidge Republican Club.

SAN FRANCISCO TO AID PENINSULA BOOSTER BODY

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce will join the new Peninsula Chambers of Commerce, Federated, at the latter's invitation, the directors of the chamber voted recently. The Peninsula Chambers of Commerce aim to foster development of the entire Peninsula district from the Ferry Building to Mountain View. The new federation held a meeting at South San Francisco on April 3, presided over by George F. Morell of the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce, who is chairman of the new body. At that meeting the work program of the federation was adopted, to include the following subjects: Dredging the South San Francisco bar; construction of the Bay Shore boulevard; transportation; Peninsula water supply; highway improvement; terminal freight rates for entire Peninsula district; concerted advertising; beautifying the highways; home building and financing; encouraging tourist hotels.

With the support of the San Francisco Chamber, the organizers of the Federated Chambers are confident that they will be able to surmount each of the difficulties impeding development at the present time. Every one of the eleven independent organizations which joined the federation when it was formed have petitioned the Federal government for aid in dredging the South San Francisco shoal and opening the bay for deep sea navigation.

SPEEDER DRAWS FINE OF $25

A fine of $25 was given J. F. Judge, who lives in San Francisco, when he appeared before City Recorder E. E. Cunningham yesterday on the charge of speeding brought against him by City Marshal Louis Belloni.

B. Boyd, 1224 San Bruno road, was fined $5 for cutting a corner with his automobile. A. McFarlin, 226 Sunnyside avenue, San Francisco, was to appear on a similar charge, but failed to do so.

Benjamin Schreyer, who was charged with speeding, was to appear, but his case was set over until a later date.

LUNDBURGS TO BUILD HOME

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lundburg have purchased a lot at the corner of Baden and Eucalyptus avenues, where they expect to erect a home soon.

BUNGALOW CAFE ORDERED CLOSED

Federal Judge George M. Bourquin, San Francisco, ordered the Bungalow Cafe at Millbrae closed for six months as a result of the arrest of its proprietor and clerk on bootlegging charges recently. Jack Poppiano of San Mateo has conducted the cafe which is located on the State highway at Millbrae.

SEWER BIDS LAID OVER TO NEXT MEETING

Trustees Resolve to Assist
Peninsula Organizations
On Bar Removal

Because the bond issue for the city, voted at the last bond election, had not been certified by attorneys, the board of trustees in meeting Monday night was unable to award the contract for the laying of a sewer line in that portion of the city west of Chestnut avenue.

Nine bids were received and opened by the trustees. All but the three lowest proposals were returned, with the certified checks that accompanied them, to the bidders. The bids retained were all under $5,000, the lowest being $4,660.51. It is likely that the award of the contract will be made at the next regular session of the board, which is to be held next Monday night.

The removal of weeds and garbage as a step toward cleaning up the city's thoroughfares and property was provided for in a resolution passed by the board.

Colonel Herbert Deakne's communication, which stated he had reported unfavorably concerning the dredging of the bar off San Bruno, and explaining the reasons for his action, was read by the city clerk.

Trustee Cunningham reported that the chambers of commerce of the Peninsula were planning a repeal from Colonel Deakne's findings and that it was advisable for the board of trustees to offer to work with those organizations. His suggestion was favorably received and a resolution of endorsement of efforts to have the report set aside by the Government was passed.

STUDENT LOSES USE OF HIS CAR

The only way to prevent high school students from speeding is to suspend their driving licenses. A fine punishes the parents, not the students.

That was the warning that Judge Albert Mansfield of Redwood City gave for youthful drivers last week when he fined Nelson Whitehill, San Francisco high school student, $10 and suspended his driver's license for 30 days, on a charge of speeding.

Whitehill's mother asked if the fine could not be increased and the suspension of license not inflicted, saying the boy used the automobile to attend an 8 o'clock class. It was suggested that he might use the street cars.

Sylvester Douglas, the officer who filed the complaint, asserted that Whitehill had gone through Five Points at the rate of 45 miles an hour.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Transactions of some interest in this section of San Mateo county have been recorded in the office of the county recorder during the past week. They are:

Deeds
V. Baker to Avery R. Kennedy, lot 23, block 15, 5th Add. San Bruno Park.

William Kennett to Isabella Kennett (wife), lots 50 and 51, block 2, 4th Add. San Bruno Park.

United Building & Development Company to Elizabeth Tenhafer, lot 39, block 14, 3rd Add. San Bruno Park.

Thomas G. Pallas to Daniel F. Garrick and wife, lots 19 and 20, block C, 1st Add. San Bruno Park.

Marie O'Neill Lemon to John Scholten and wife, quitclaim lots 5 and 6, block 19, 3rd Add. San Bruno Park.

FIRE THREATENS SAN BRUNO HOMES

A roadhouse at Tanforan burned Tuesday night and for a time threatened to destroy a section of the San Bruno residential district. Fire departments from San Bruno, South San Francisco, San Mateo and Burlingame joined in the effort to prevent spread of the flames.

Depot Improvement Committee Authorized By Local Chamber Named By President Dinning

City Beautification Will Be Object of This Group

Acting upon the resolution unanimously passed by the Chamber of Commerce in its last session, President H. W. Dinning yesterday announced the appointment of a committee of three to confer with the Southern Pacific Railroad Company with a view toward improving the appearance of the entrance to this city from the right of way.

Ira H. Potter, president of the Bank of South San Francisco, is chairman and the other members

Competes With Parades, Boosts Legion Dance

While the Druids and the Redmen were monopolizing most of the attention of South San Francisco residents on Sunday, Lester Howard, active in the affairs of Bernard McCaffrey Post, American Legion, managed to steal a little of their thunder and to register a boost for the Legion dance slated for May 10.

Howard donned his old uniform to which he had affixed a sign that told the world "Meet Every Buddy at the American Legion Dance." The sign which rested on the broad shoulders of Howard's coat told other details of the affair. Howard's young son was not to be outdone by his dad and insisted on accompanying him through the streets. The sign on his back read "I'm a booster, too."

The pair attracted a great deal of attention and Howard Senior says that Howard Junior was so proud of the work he was doing he wouldn't let him go home until the city had been traveled over three or four times.

WILL CONTEST CITY ELECTION

Hearing of the contest over the recent municipal election in which George W. Holston, former mayor of South San Francisco, was defeated by Carl Blank by two votes, has been set for Friday, May 9, by Superior Judge George H. Buck, at which time all of the ballots cast in the election will be brought into court and counted.

Holston filed a contest of election in the superior court Saturday. J. W. Coleberd, former city attorney of South San Francisco, as attorney for Holston, secured an order from Judge Buck setting the hearing of the contest for Friday.

Holston's complaint recites that there were nine contestants for the three offices to be filled, and that the count showed the vote cast as follows: Hugh Felix McNellis, 451; Hugh McCaffrey, 447; William Joseph Hyand, 299; Rodrick Tibbets, 260; Carrie E. Winterhalter, 181; Charles Fredrick Schmidt, 88; William F. Vargas, 24; Carl Blank, 429, and George William Holston, 427.

According to the complaint Holston is informed and believes that he received a greater number of votes than the defendants did.

CITIZENS GIVE GOLD BADGE TO CITY MARSHAL

City Marshal Louis Belloni is sporting a new gold badge. Admirers of the new official presented him with the emblem on last Saturday morning as a token of their esteem for him. William Hickey made the presentation in Belloni's office.

The new badge, which is of 14 carat gold, bears the inscription "Chief of Police, South San Francisco," in blue engraving. On the back of the badge there is engraved, "Presented to Chief of Police Louis Belloni by his many friends in South San Francisco, April 26, 1924."

GOV'T OPPOSED TO SAN BRUNO PT. PROJECT

Improvement Declared Local, Therefore Not Entitled to U. S. Funds are John Williams of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, and Supervisor Thomas Hickey.

It will be the purpose of the committee, as determined by the Chamber of Commerce, to interest the railroad company in beautifying its station and surroundings as the initial step in a campaign looking toward the beautification of that section of the city. Suggestions made in the meeting were that the Southern Pacific be asked to put a coat of stucco on the depot, or that it be asked to paint the building and dress it up with vines and shrubs.

Just what action will result from the activities of the committee cannot be determined at this time.

This adverse conclusion is based on the grounds that the improvement recommended would be of local character rather than of general benefit and that the commercial effects of the project being uncertain and somewhat speculative in nature, the entire cost of the work should be borne by local interests. Interested parties have the privilege of appealing from this report to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, a permanent body sitting in Washington, D. C.

This is one of the projects of work on the program of the Peninsula Chambers of Commerce Federated.

Colonel Deakne's report, copies of which have been received here, follows:

"You having expressed an interest in the pending proposition for the improvement of South San Francisco harbor, California, you are hereby informed that the report thereon authorized by the act of Congress approved September 22, 1922, has been made and is unfavorable to any improvement at the expense of the United States. The principal grounds upon which the adverse conclusions are based are that the improvement recommended would be of local rather than general benefit, and that the commercial effects of the project being uncertain and somewhat speculative in nature, the entire cost of the work should be borne by local interests."

"You are further notified that all interested parties have the privilege of an appeal from this conclusion to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, a permanent body sitting at Washington, D. C., to which all examination and survey reports of this character are referred. Parties desiring to do so may be heard on appeal by the board, either orally or in writing. Written communications should be addressed to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., and should be mailed in time to be in possession of the said board within four weeks from the date of this communication. If, however, you have important data to communicate to the board, which cannot be collected and put in shape for proper presentation within four weeks the board should be informed of this fact without delay and request made for an extension of the limiting date for submitting information. If oral hearings are desired, dates for the same may be arranged for by correspondence with the board."

"Any further information needed may be obtained by application to this office, but attention is invited to the following regulation as to the manner in which such information may be furnished: "Where interested parties desire, data necessary for the preparation of their appeal to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors will be given them verbally by the district engineer, or in his absence, by the senior assistant engineer connected with the improvement. They will not be permitted to have access to the report without authority from the chief of engineers."

WOMAN CLUB SHOWN STYLES

A style show was to be the feature of a meeting of the Woman's Club in Metropolitan Hall today. Miss Lillian Burkheim, style counselor of Livingston Brothers, San Francisco, was to give a talk on modes and models. A class of 18 children from the grammar school was secured to give a gypsy dance.

The new officers of the club are: Mrs. J. O. Snyder, president; Mrs. M. Spangler, vice president; Mrs. C. Townsend, recording secretary; Mrs. M. J. Johnson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. R. Switzer, treasurer.

The club's annual breakfast will be held at Hotel Whitcomb May 29 at noon. A program has been arranged for that occasion.

NEW CITY ATTORNEY WILL HAVE OFFICE AND PRACTICE HERE

John F. Davis, newly appointed city attorney, will open offices in the City Hall within the week, according to announcement made recently. He will occupy rooms on the second floor.

Davis intends to develop a local practice here in addition to his work for the city. He acted as city attorney in Burlingame for ten years prior to his acceptance of the post here.

APRIL BUILDING PERMITS REACH TOTAL OF $48,350, DOUBLE THOSE OF MARCH

Building permits representing an expenditure of approximately $48,350 were issued in South San Francisco during April, according to Edgar H. Lewis, city building inspector. This represents an increase over March's figures of $23,292.

The biggest item among the permits issued in April was that of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, which secured permit to construct an extension to its substation here at a cost of $16,000.

A bungalow court, to be constructed on Maple avenue at a cost of $9,000, is also one of the larger items.

The permits as issued last month follow:

Charles Tacchi, five room bungalow, stucco finish; High School Park; estimated cost, $4,000.

J. Bettencourt, four room bungalow; Pepek Subdivision; estimated cost, $2,000.

Domenico Colombo, six room stucco bungalow; Commercial avenue; estimated cost, $3,000.

G. Pasini, six room cottage; Ashton avenue; estimated cost, $4,000.

Charles McMills, garage; Grand avenue; estimated cost, $100.

Manuel Sanfrancisco, one room addition to house; Baden avenue; estimated cost, $100.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company, extension to substation, foundation reinforced concrete, frame of structural steel, walls corrugated steel; estimated cost, $16,000.

Umberto Guidotti and Emilia Guidotti, five room cottage; Baden avenue; estimated cost, $4,000.

R. C. Stickle received a permit to build a cottage for H. J. Clark in High School Park. The cost is estimated at $5,800.

R. C. Stickle, bungalow court; Maple avenue; estimated cost, $9,000.

C. Rozzi, permit to move and improve house. Estimated cost, $350.

POLITICAL PARODY PLEASES MINSTREL SHOW AUDIENCE

Municipal politics were burlesqued very successfully by McGovern and Scott in one of the features of the Industrial Club's minstrel show, which was staged in Fraternal Hall last Thursday night. Parodying the now celebrator ballad, "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," they turned into fun the recent political upheaval and scored so heavily that they were forced to answer several encores before the audience was satisfied.

The show was adjudged the best yet produced by the clubmen. The packed house which greeted the performers applauded each act to the limit of endurance of the players.

Among the features were: Holland, his bagpipe, and the dancing kiddies; McSweeney and Truax in "Here and There"; J. G. Walker, Ben Hjerpe, A. R. Covell, and Postmaster Hardy, singing solos.

A dance was enjoyed following the performance.

On Friday evening the entire troupe of minstrel men went to Half Moon Bay where they repeated their show before a large audience. Their efforts were well received.

MRS. JOHN LOPEZ IS HONORED GUEST AT BIRTHDAY BARBECUE

Eighty friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lopez, 433 Grand avenue, on Sunday afternoon to assist Mrs. Lopez in celebrating her 51st birthday anniversary. They came at the behest of John F. Lopez who, aided by his son, John J., had prepared a barbecue and arranged for music for a dance. Following the barbecue, which was served at 1 o'clock, dancing and social conversation were enjoyed until 6 o'clock when dinner was served. The guests returned to their dancing and, encouraged by an orchestra which came from San Francisco at 8 o'clock, continued until midnight.

The guest list included, besides relatives of the Lopez family, friends from this city, San Francisco, and Visitation Valley.

On last Wednesday Mrs. Lopez was treated to a real surprise when her niece, Mrs. Tina Larson, entertained a small group of friends at a dinner in her honor. The invited guests were Dick Sutter, Dan McSweeney, John Garcia, Miss Rita Castro, and Vincent Cosio.

Tax-Paying Period Closed on Monday

Unpaid taxes on city property became delinquent on Monday last, according to announcement made by City Clerk Daniel McSweeney yesterday.

McSweeney explained that the period for the payment of taxes ended on that day, and that property upon which the tax has not been paid will be placed forthwith on the delinquent list. He intimated, however, that there is still a chance for careless taxpayers during the few days while the books are being closed.

VOTERS RECEIVE SAMPLE BALLOTS

County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese has mailed the first sample ballots for the presidential primary election. On Saturday they were sent to the registered voters in South San Francisco, Colma, Lomita Park, and San Bruno. Mailing will continue this week until every registered voter in San Mateo county is supplied.

LOCAL SCHOOLS GO TO BURLINGAME TOMORROW

Ten Thousand Children to March in 'Play-Day'
Morning Parade

Ten thousand children are expected to take part in the mammoth parade which will be the principal feature of "School Day" to be held in Burlingame tomorrow, and in which all of the high and grammar schools of San Mateo county will participate.

The parade, which is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock, will make its way on Peninsular avenue to Park road, thence to Burlingame avenue, on that artery to City Park near Burlingame High School where it will end.

South San Francisco schools have completed plans for entering the event which is staged in the nature of a play-day. The high school has adopted fez caps for the occasion and has also taken charge of the hot dog concession on the Burlingame High School grounds. Each high school is in charge of a concession.

Following the parade the schools will compete in athletic events to be held on the Burlingame athletic field in the afternoon.

Children of the San Mateo elementary schools will represent California in a beautifully decorated float. All of the participants in this event will wear poppy caps. Other schools are known to be planning floats for the parade.

OFFICERS SCARE HOUSE-BREAKERS

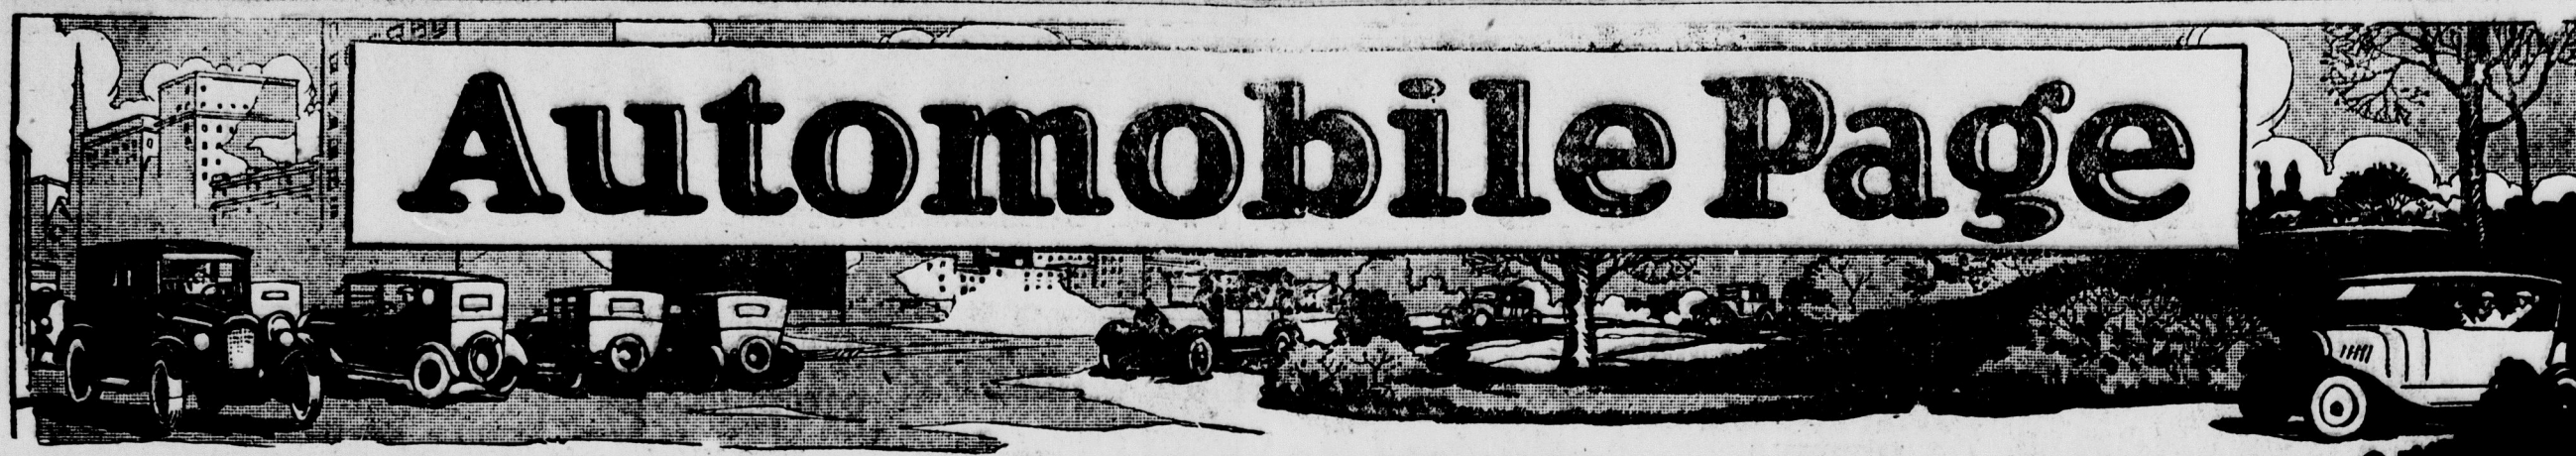

Three men, believed by officers to have been hangers-on at the Tanforan race track, were frightened away from the residence of Mrs. M. Ringuet, 565 Baden avenue, early Friday morning by Officer Walter Miller. The men were apparently trying to force an entrance to the Ringuet home when Miller appeared.

The officers pursued the men who ran in the direction of the Tanforan track. They failed to stop when he shot in the air above them. City Marshal Louis Belloni, attracted by the shots, joined the officer and the two men searched the track and the surrounding territory. They found no trace of the men.

MOOSE INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

With Past Dictator Bostrom supervising the ceremony, the newly elected officers of the Loyal Order of Moose lodge were installed Tuesday night in a session held in Fraternal Hall.

The new officers who will handle the affairs of the lodge during the coming year are: D. S. Wright, dictator; Fred Bauderman, vice dictator; Charles Mercks, prelate; Lester Howard, secretary. The trustees of the order are H. McNellis, Henry Minuccianni, and Lee Hall.

FORD PRICE IS FALLING WHILE LIVING MOUNTS

Statistics just completed show that the cost of living increased 1 per cent in the year 1923, regardless of the determined effort on the part of the country as a whole to actually reduce living expenses, according to Fred J. Lantze, local Ford dealer.

In spite of this upward trend, most automobile manufacturers can take considerable pride in announcing that their products are selling at a lower figure than ever before.

For example, W. C. Patterson, chief roadman of the Ford Motor Company of Northern California, calls attention to the fact that the Ford is retailing today at a lower price than it has at any time since this car cast its head over the horizon of the automotive industry.

"Our factory," Patterson went on to say, "is kept well informed through its sales and statistical departments, and is able to gauge the demand of the public for months ahead, making it possible for our production department to concentrate on its output."

"The workmanship and material in our cars is of higher standard than ever. Efficient management and sound consumers demand enable us to place our products on the market at remarkably low figures."

AVERAGE LIFE OF AUTOMOBILE IS EIGHT YEARS

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—Twenty-seven per cent of all the cars in the records of the Division of Motor Vehicles were manufactured prior to 1919. Only about

TRAFFIC COPS UNIFORM CHOSEN

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—The Division of Motor Vehicles has adopted a standard uniform for all traffic officers in the State, operating under its jurisdiction. The uniform is semi-military in appearance and conforms to requirements of the motor vehicle act for a "distinctive" dress. Officers will be expected to wear it at all times while on duty. An outstanding feature is the Sam Browne belt worn outside the blouse. The uniforms will be of California gray or olive drab. Sidearms will be worn on the left side. Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, declared today the new uniform would be a step toward the protection of both the officer and the motoring public.

MOTORS FURNISH LIVELIHOOD FOR 200,000 PERSONS

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—Nearly 200,000 persons in California make their living by driving automobiles, according to the records of the Division of Motor Vehicles, which show approximately this number of chauffeurs registered in the State during 1923. Unlike an ordinary operator's license, chauffeurs' licenses expire every year and must be renewed. A fee of $2 is required. Persons carrying passengers for hire must be more than 18 years of age and drivers of school busses must be 21 years of age.

85,000 of the 1918 models are left in the records, while models for years previous are dwindling fast. While definite data is not available, the records indicate that the average life of an automobile in California is between seven and eight years.

PERSONAL ITEMS FROM COLMA

A number of people plan to attend the masked ball to be given under the auspices of Progress Camp No. 125, Woodmen of the World, in Fraternal Hall, South San Francisco, Saturday evening.

The Misses Theresa Stapanoni and Romilda Romacioti, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Vichetti of South San Francisco, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwarz in the Crocker Amazon Tract.

H. Barner of San Francisco was in town last Wednesday.

The girls' baseball team of Jefferson Union High School motored to Half Moon Bay last Tuesday afternoon to meet Half Moon Bay High School on their diamond. After an exciting game, which the Colma girls tried hard to win, Half Moon took the honors by a few runs.

Robert Sturla entertained a number of his schoolmates at a party at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Sturla, on Market street, last Thursday afternoon. Games were played and refreshments were served to the young people.

Mrs. Robert Herring has recovered from her illness.

Mrs. Joseph Alteri, Mrs. Oliver Granucci, Mrs. Urbano Granucci, and Mrs. David Funke recently attended a tea at the St. Francis Hotel, at which the engagement of Miss Evelyn Spellman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Spellman, who resided in Colma for many years, to a prominent San Francisco physician, was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwarz and son, Carl, Jr., of San Francisco, visited friends here last Wednesday evening.

The students of Jefferson Union High School will have a candy booth at the Field Day celebration in Burlingame tomorrow.

The best talent of the Jefferson School District will be in readiness to entertain all those who attend the big exhibit in the Daly City auditorium, May 16.

Jack Burke, formerly of Colma, is building a beautiful home in Daly City.

Only two contestants entered the beauty contest which was held at the New Colma Theater last Thursday evening. They were Misses Isabel Silicani and Thelma Selmi. Miss Silicani was awarded the hand painted cake set which was donated by A. Boni of the hardware store.

A picnic is to be given by the Daly City volunteer fire department in Lovechen Gardens, Colma, on Sunday, May 11.

Prof. William J. Savage was recently called to Redwood City on the business of county advisory committees on schools.

The Colma Hotel was recently raided by prohibition officers of San Francisco.

It is said that Colma will soon have a first-class bakery on San Pedro avenue.

An electric sign is being installed on Mission road and Market streets by the local merchants. This, it is expected, will more than help to put Colma on the map, and it is due to the efforts of Angelo Oleese, J. Garibaldi and others.

BUYS CHRYSLER TOURING CAR

Vincent Astigan, who lives at 327 Baden avenue, South San Francisco, is to take delivery today of a Chrysler touring car, sold by Dumond and Nolan, local dealers. This is the first Chrysler car of this type to be taken in this city since the agency was established recently.

evening of Friday, May 16, one that will long be remembered by their families and friends. This exhibit will contain the finest work of all grades from the kindergarten to the high school. Miss Earle is chairman of the exhibit committee. A number of radio sets made by the Radio Club of the high school will be among the exhibits.

Mrs. E. Maffel of Lomita Park visited Mrs. B. W. Haubrich last Monday.

Miss Louise Merlo visited friends in San Francisco last Tuesday.

Louis Poletti spent Saturday visiting Louis Conti.

Mrs. P. G. Kunze, Mrs. Edward Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herzing, Miss Emily Bauer and Fred Bauer motored to Congress Springs last Sunday.

The Shelloni home on First avenue, which was formerly owned by Carl Schwartz, is the new residence of the Castani family.

The girls' baseball team of Jefferson Union High School defeated the girls' grammar school team by a score of 19 to 5 on the local diamond last Monday.

A party was held at the Shindler home last Saturday evening. Over 100 guests gathered during the evening to enjoy dancing and a buffet supper. Shindler's Novelty Orchestra provided the music.

Mrs. J. Fuchs and children spent last Thursday with friends in South San Francisco.

A big benefit dance is to be given by the local lodge of Foresters in Castle Hall next Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lagomarsino have rented their home on School street and are staying at the Lomita home in South San Francisco.

The pupils of the Jefferson District and their various teachers are diligently working to make their exhibit in the Daly City Auditorium on the afternoon and

CAR LICENSES SET NEW MARK

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—The Division of Motor Vehicles registered a total of 1,101,417 motor vehicles and trailers and collected approximately $5,000,000 in registration fees in California during the first three months of this year. Registrations for the period were almost as great as for all of last year. The registration lists include 941,073 private passenger cars, 34,736 solid tired trucks and 106,114 pneumatic tired vehicles. There were 36,142 automobiles changed hands during the period.

SAN CARLOS

SAN CARLOS, May 1.—Mrs. I. Hotelling of San Francisco was a weekend visitor at the home of Mrs. J. E. Cowgill of Laurel street.

Reuben Hurlbut, former resident, now in the mining business at Sonora, Tuolumne county, is spending a few days with his father, R. P. Hurlbut, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Clark of San Francisco were visitors in town on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Denney entertained at dinner Mrs. Anna Denney, Miss Catherine Keyser, Jack Davis, Edward Denney and Bill Lewis.

R. P. Hurlbut, who had the contract for the remodeling of the old high school property for grammar school use, completed his work in the building yesterday. A number of changes in the interior were made and the structure will be used for the upper grades on the reopening in August. A Denney, local painter, also finished his painting contract on the school.

Mrs. J. M. Edling, accompanied by Mrs. Charles McNeill, Mrs. Robert L. Simpson, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. J. E. Cowgill and several others, attended the federation meeting held by the county under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Associations of San Mateo county.

Miss Olga Selmi, who underwent an operation on the throat at the Lane Hospital in San Francisco last Monday, is recovering nicely.

WOULD EXAMINE MOTOR DRIVERS

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—All persons in California applying for a license to drive an automobile will be required to demonstrate their ability and physical fitness to drive if an amendment to be proposed by Will H. Marsh, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, at the next session of the Legislature, is passed.

Marsh declares he will recommend an examination for all prospective operators, so that no person may be permitted to go on the public highways with a car unless he can drive it. The division chief also points out that the present law gives the division no authority to determine whether an applicant is physically able to drive.

BELMONT

BELMONT, May 1.—Mrs. R. Hastings is home again after spending her two weeks vacation in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hansen is expected to return within the next two weeks. Mrs. Hansen and two children, Muriel and Howard, have been living in a suburb of Los Angeles with Mrs. Hansen's mother, Mrs. Jens.

A birthday dinner party was given Leonard Hansen, by his mother Sunday afternoon. Those who attended were: Mrs. Cooper and daughter, Alfred Jolly of San Francisco, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Doris Vannier, Miss Amelia Johnson, Miss Mary McConney, James Quinn of Oakland, Glenwood Joy, Irwin Hapson, Leonard Hansen, Clarence Johnson, and Paul Miller.

The monthly meeting of the Belmont Parent-Teacher Association will be held Tuesday afternoon at the same place. Quite an extensive program has been prepared for the parents and teachers. The primary room will give a program, while the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will give a well-trained exhibition of calisthenics, together with a reading by one of the pupils and a piano solo by Audrey Nelson.

Mrs. Nelson is enjoying a tour of the Hawaiian Islands with a party of friends.

CROSSING SIGNAL DEVICE PROVES EFFECTIVE

First trial of the Martel Highway Signal, a device designed to protect intersections along heavily traveled roadways, was given recently at El Camino Real and Bellevue avenue, Hillsborough, by officers of the Hillsborough police force under direction of Chief C. M. Hirschey.

The signal device, which includes semaphores with light and bells operated from a central tower besides the highway, has been under construction for several weeks. The warnings may be operated either by an officer in the tower or automatically, with "set stops" of varying periods for traffic in either direction, it was stated by Chief Hirschey, who declared the device will prove of much value in reducing accidents at intersections.

"We found that the stop signals gave drivers ample warning, so that traffic was stopped without rear-end collisions, which so often occur where traffic is halted on a busy road," Chief Hirschey said. "The arrangement of the semaphores and lights is such that we handled traffic on the highway at the most congested hour with no difficulty, and officers were highly pleased with the demonstration."

Builders of the signal are planning a demonstration to which all San Mateo county officials will be invited, with a view to showing the advantages of the device over the regulation of traffic by older methods. The signal may be installed at small cost and will prove of value in solving traffic problems along the State highway in San Mateo county, Chief Hirschey declared.

HARRY G. WALSH IS IN CONTEST FOR SUPERVISOR

Harry G. Walsh of Menlo Park has announced his candidacy for supervisor of San Mateo county from the third supervisorial district. His statement of candidacy mentions that he was born and brought up in the county and "knows the necessities of the third township and the county of San Mateo generally."

THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY

In California It Comes Next Tuesday. When Every Qualified Voter Should Go to the Polls

Next Tuesday California's presidential primary election will be held, at which every registered voter in the State should cast his ballot. It matters not which party or which candidate the voter is supporting, he should go to the polls and register his preference.

Although there are contests presented in this election, the absence of any "heated campaign" is causing many to fear that election day apathy will prevail, and that the vote will be light. But if the record registration finished in time for this primary is any index to the intentions of the voters, there is every expectation of a heavy balloting.

Unless the vote is large enough to be thoroughly representative, there can be no assurance that the will of California is expressed in the result. Whether it will be representative and expressive is a matter within the decision of individual voters.

In all elections there are people who express dissatisfaction with all the tickets submitted, and who announce therefore that they will not vote at all. The number of voters having this view is in the minority, but that doctrine, however, is a dangerous sort to be preached. It should be borne in mind by voters of that persuasion that at every election something will be decided some way. When two candidates are offered for a single place, one or the other will be chosen. The choice can be made only from the alternatives submitted. And a choice will be made. Is it not more sensible, then, for every voter to have a say in the decision, even though from his point of view it would be choosing the lesser of two evils, than to leave the whole question to others?

We do not mean to infer that we regard the election next Tuesday as presenting a case in which the lesser of two evils must be selected. Far from it. Our endorsement of President Coolidge for Republican nomination is wholehearted and enthusiastic. But whether you agree with that conviction or not, we urge that you vote on Tuesday.

ONE BATTLE IS WON

Now the Fight for Children's Rights Is Carried to the United States Senate

With the passage in the House last Saturday of the resolution proposing a child labor amendment to the Federal Constitution, an important battle in the war for children's rights may be considered won. The measure, which would empower Congress to limit, regulate, or prohibit the labor of children under 18 years of age, now must go to the Senate. The resolution passed the House by a considerable margin, the vote being 279 to 79, or 53 more than the two-thirds required for passage.

While the size of the affirmative vote is a source of gratification, there is nothing to rejoice over in the fact that as many as 79 representatives voted against the measure which is one of the leading humanitarian issues of the age, comparable in importance, save as to numbers of individuals affected, with the former campaigns against human slavery and the liquor traffic.

Until child labor is made prohibitive by law, uniformly in all states, no part of the country should feel content to rest. Children's rights are the most important rights in the world. As children are not voters and cannot rise to their own defense, the obligation upon adult citizens of the country to win this fight for them is all the more firmly placed.

LOWER RENTS SEEN ON HORIZON

Reports from Forty-six Cities Indicate Building Is Overtaking the Housing Shortage

Based upon a survey of housing and building conditions and living costs made in 46 cities, an Eastern newspaper predicts that the time is not far ahead when present building activity will overtake housing deficits left by the war, with an inevitable drop from peak rentals and a decrease of inflated property values as the result.

The booming condition in the building line that has been so universal and incessant since the close of the war was destined from the beginning to slow down ultimately. The faster the boom, the earlier the end was certain to be. While there is a wealth of evidence that the boom will continue in many communities for perhaps several years hence, nevertheless the average, struck from the combined reports of 46 of the principal cities must be considered to have a general significance.

Although a building slump will bring its depressions in kindred lines, that result will have a partial offset in the inevitable lowering of rentals and property sale prices for which the buying public has been waiting.

THE HIGH COST SCORE

Investigation Proves Is Groundless in South San Francisco

This is a message to the man who pays the food bills. The statement is often made by commuters who work in South San Francisco but who live elsewhere, that the cost of living is cheaper where their home is than it is here. As a matter of fact, comparison of prices in San Francisco with those of this city frequently reveals that foodstuffs are selling for less in South San Francisco. This is especially noticeable where meat is concerned. Vegetables, coffee, sugar, and canned goods are sold here at an average price which stands comparison with that of other cities on the Peninsula.

Do not be misled, Mr. Householder. You may hear of stores or markets out of the city which are offering special inducements to attract buyers. Very likely these stores are marking some articles below cost in order to draw customers. You will find, however, that both time and money can be saved by patronizing local merchants. Week-end specials, as advertised in this newspaper, will prove a helpful guide to the careful buyer.

Living costs no more in South San Francisco than it does in other cities in the Bay region. There is no justification for "scare talk" to the effect that prices are "high" here. Taken on an average, they are as low as those charged in the home city of the commuter who believes he is better off where he is.

"WHERE DO YOU LIVE?"

In a city in the San Joaquin Valley a commercial secretary is kept very busy these days complying with requests from neighboring cities for an address he built himself that he calls "Where Do You Live?" In the short space of three months during the fall season he delivered his talk before sixteen luncheon clubs and chambers of commerce in the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley. He is still giving his ideas wherever they are demanded.

The theme of his speech is built around the question, "Do you live here, or do you merely exist?" Living he interprets to mean more than just having a house to dwell in and a job. He interprets living as the large activity it should be: the participation in every program that will benefit his city; the putting of the shoulder to every wheel that will iron out obstacles in the way of progress to his city.

"Where Do You Live?" might well be asked of every citizen in every city in the United States. It applies to everyone of us. Are we doing everything possible to aid every enterprise that is worthy of assistance? Or do we merely earn a livelihood here and sit snugly under the roof that we are able to maintain through working with our fellows and criticize a few of those same men when they step forward with a project that will benefit the city as a whole?

INSISTENCE UPON TRUTH

President Coolidge's Dedicatory Speech Monday Has Application to Current Educational Controversy

In his speech at the dedication of the new home of the National Academy of Sciences and National Research Council Monday, President Coolidge said in part: "One of the most important possibilities for service of the National Academy of Sciences in the future lies in the opportunity for inspiring the American people to insistence upon having the truth and nothing but the truth regarding everything that touches our life as a nation."

This brief excerpt we commend as a text for all those who have ideas on the subject of what should be taught and how it should be taught in the schools. The point is particularly worth pondering at this time when attempts are being made to stifle the teaching of various facts and doctrines in schools, not on any allegation of untruth, but upon the question of policy in letting the truth be known. Those who would delete facts from American histories whenever the facts are not flattering to our national pride should reconsider their recommendation in the light of the real purpose of education, as so clearly set forth by the President—a seeking for truth.

A LIGHT IN THE CLEARING

The meeting of the Merchants' Association of South San Francisco last night was well attended, compared to the attendance of past sessions. While it is true that less than half of the merchants and shopkeepers in the city were present, considerable business of great importance to the entire city was transacted. Judging from last night's meeting, one is led to believe that the association is arousing itself from a period of lethargy which has hampered it for some time.

HIGH JUNIORS

The High Juniors held a class party Saturday night in Daly City. Seventeen members of the class attended and enjoyed dancing to radio music, eats and games. They held a business meeting Tuesday at 12:30 and agreed to pay transportation charges for the class who attended the party.

SCHOOL DERBIES

Henceforth the students from our high school can be picked out from a crowd by the hats they wear. They are on the same principle as the Shriner's fez, with S. S. F. in the form of the school block on them. No other school on the Peninsula has this style for a school hat. The seniors have also chosen their senior derbys.

STUDENT BODY HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting was held Thursday afternoon. The purposes were to select a school hat and to award stars to the champion volleyball team. The following girls were awarded stars: Genevieve Schmidt, captain; Zilpha Dunlap, Sylvia Thomas, Helen Fischer, Marian Fischer, Cecelia Carmody, Beatrice Farrell, Althea Spangler, Laura Baldini and Gertha Lane.

PLAY DAY

Friday, May 2, is to be play day for the schools on the Peninsula. The affair is to be held at Burlingame. A parade will be given in the morning, at which all the schools will be represented by a float, and a track meet will be held in the afternoon. Each school has charge of one or more concessions and South City controls the booth at which we all will buy our "hot dogs."

CO-OP STORE

Commissioner W. Dotson has arranged the co-op store this week so that it will be open soon to start business. School belts and hats may be purchased at the store any time.

JUNIOR PROM

The annual Junior Prom will be held by the low junior class Friday evening, May 2. The auditorium will be decorated in class colors and "James' Orchestra" will furnish the music. This dance is strictly invitational, and bids may be obtained from members of the low junior class.

LOW SOPHS

The low sophomore class held one of their numerous class parties last week, on April 25, at Helen Fischer's home. Miss Shaw, their class teacher, chaperoned the party.

REDWOOD CITY-SOUTH CITY

Friday afternoon, April 26, Redwood City's 130-pound boys' baseball team handed our midgets a beating by a score of 11 to 2. Our boys were off form and played a very ragged game.

PALO ALTO VS. SOUTH CITY

We meet Palo Alto's 130-pound baseball team Wednesday, April 29. Our boys hope to be in better form than they were against Redwood City, and we intend to give Palo Alto a good run for their money.

TRACK

The annual Peninsula Athletic League track meet will be held at Stanford Saturday, May 3. This is the first time our school has had a team that is worthy as representatives. The following boys compose the team: Lopez, in the 220 and 50-yard dashes, and also in the broad jump; G. Dotson, in the pole vault; Lumberg, in the discus; A. McGovern, in the 50-yard dash, and Aylworth, in the 4.4-yard run.

GIRLS DEFEATED

Our girls may always take home the bacon when it comes to volleyball and basketball, but in baseball they are usually on the losers' end. In their first game of the season they met San Mateo and lost by a score of 22 to 2. The whole pitching staff were unable to stop the slaughter. San Mateo hit the ball to all parts of the field. Helen Fischer was sent to the mound for South City, but before she knew it she was yanked and Cecelia Carmody was sent in, but she also could not stop them, so they sent in Althea Spangler, but she failed. Helen Fischer was recalled from the outfield to end the riot act.

Homes or "Homes"

HAVE you ever visited an Old Folks' Home?

What a heart-breaking thing it is to see the pitiful attempts of these poor old people to give the few square feet of space they can call their own a touch of the real home they once knew. Not much can be done with only a cot, a bureau and a chair. Yet those who feel the home-hunger try pathetically to make the place seem like home by tacking up a few pictures torn from magazines and by keeping photographs on their bureaus.

And they call such places "home"! The places where the poor, the sick, the deaf, the blind, the orphans and other public charges are housed. Shelters only—compared with real homes such as most of them formerly had.

More real homes and fewer "homes" are what this country needs right now. The welfare of the individual, the family, the nation, the whole world is based upon homes. Civilization itself is founded upon the home. Have you a real home or just a roof and four walls?

If you have a home—protect it. Make it permanent and homelike. Guard against the necessity of ever seeking shelter in a "home."

Look at your home. Think about it. What can you do to make it better? Home surroundings exert such a tremendous influence over family life.

Better homes mean better children. Better children mean better men and women. Better men and women mean better citizens. And better citizens mean a better America.

WE WANT TO HELP YOU

Acquire the home you should have, the home you have been dreaming of and planning for. Consult us at any time—you need not feel under any obligation for services rendered.

Strawberries were selling for 15 cents a basket in most stores in San Francisco and South San Francisco early this week.

Fresh peas averaged two pounds for 25 cents.

New potatoes have been selling at the rate of four pounds for 25 cents in local markets, a price that compares favorably with that of San Francisco stores.

This is the first of a series of surveys planned to disprove assertions that the cost of living is higher in South San Francisco than it is elsewhere.

It is pointed out that housewives who go to San Francisco for bargains not infrequently spend more money than they would for the same article at home, after taking into consideration car fares and time lost in traveling.

Hints on Oven Cookery
Are Given to Housewives

The average housewife understands too little about the possibilities of cooking in the oven. She uses the oven for roasts, biscuits, puddings, etc., the foods you always think of as baked; as to cooking the entire meals by this means only a comparatively few persons realize the convenience and possibilities. When casserole cookery is mentioned the first thought is a stew of some type; or some food which requires long, slow cooking.

There are so many reasons for recommending oven cookery. First, the heat of the oven can be more easily regulated. If slow cooking is desired, it is possible to keep the oven at just the right temperature with very little attention whether the fuel be gas, electricity, coal or wood. The food can be seasoned, and for the slow process practically left alone until time to serve it. This should appeal to the busy mother. Second, the cheaper cuts of meat and fowl will become tender and palatable during this long, slow cooking, and the meat need not be confined to stews, etc., but the popular roast can easily be cooked in the oven as well as on top of the stove. Potroasting means cooking slowly in a heavy pot closely covered on the top of the stove; braising means cooking in a close-covered utensil in a very moderate oven. Now a potroast can be cooked as well one way as the other. If the oven is large enough for more utensils some other dish can be cooked at the same time. Say a pot of Boston beans to use for the following day's dinner, or a dish of baked apples, or an Indian pudding. The vegetables may be added when the meat is half cooked. Potatoes, onions, carrots, turnips, etc. They will add flavor to the meat and gravy.

There are so many attractive fireproof dishes in all shapes and sizes. The glass or earthenware casseroles may be placed on the table, and this economy of dishes is another advantage.

So many persons object to the odor of fresh fish while cooking. Oven cookery eliminates most of the unpleasant odor. The little glass fireproof platters are particularly suitable for this purpose, no cover being required. All smoked or salt fish can be cooked to advantage in this manner.

No type of cookery is so satisfactory for using up left-overs as the casserole. The bits of cooked meat around a ham bone or leg of lamb which cannot be sliced may be combined with vegetables covered with stock or water, seasoned well and slowly cooked. No left-over bit of vegetable is too small to be added for flavor. A cupful of diced cooked meat, prepared with a generous amount of vegetables, will make a dinner sufficient for three persons. The small individual casseroles or ramekins can be used to advantage for small portions of left-over vegetables; a little corn with a few strips of pimiento or green pepper, or corn and beans combined. For luncheon a tablespoonful of diced meat will make this the main dish of the meal.

All scalloped dishes are attractive. If raw vegetables are used they can be cooked a long time, but if merely warming up cooked vegetables a few minutes is sufficient.

All dried vegetables and fruits are so easily cooked in closely covered dishes in the oven. Prunes are especially fine cooked in this manner. The secret of a really good baked apple lies in the cooking in a covered dish until tender; then they may be uncovered and browned.

The seasoning has a great deal to do with the success of casserole cookery and is added when preparing the dish. We do not always consider a method of cooking as flavor, yet this is true. Meat or chicken that has been rolled in flour and browned in hot fat will have a different flavor from that which has been cooked without searing.

Variety can be given to the same types of food by using these different methods of preparation.

Eggs may be cooked in many ways in the oven while the toast is being made in the broiler. Shredded eggs, soft boiled eggs (Boiling water poured over eggs and set in the oven five minutes), baked omelet, etc.

The inexperienced housekeeper will do well to try out some of these oven-cooked meals, only taking care to have a very low heat for long, slow cooking and a moderate heat for re-heating, such as scalloped dishes or for fish.

This form of cooking is not only economical in fuel, but in food, as it is seldom if ever spoiled; in dishes, always an item in a servantless house, and because little attention is required and an economy of time.

Casserole of Beef and Macaroni

One pound of beef free from bones (chuck, round, flank, or skirt steak), 4 small onions, 1 cupful of macaroni broken in inch lengths, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1 tablespoon drippings.

Cut meat into pieces suitable for serving. Season, dredge with flour and brown in the hot drippings. Place in a casserole, surrounded with well washed macaroni and onions. Cover with boiling water and bake slowly about three hours. The gravy should be thickened sufficiently.

Scalloped Vegetables

Place in alternate layers in a baking dish bread crumbs and cooked vegetables, having crumbs for the top layer. Season each layer and sprinkle bits of butter on top of the last layer of crumbs. Bake until brown. Cooked corn, tomatoes, onions, and cabbage may all be prepared in this manner.

Flaked Fish au Gratin

One cup flaked fish, 1 cup medium white sauce, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt, few grains paprika, 3 tablespoons butter, bread crumbs.

Add fish and seasoning to white sauce and pour into greased bak-

Y. L. I. OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

The following officers were chosen by the Young Ladies' Institute last night:

Past president, Miss Laura Baldini; president, Miss Emily Fourcans; first vice-president, Mrs. L. D'Artemay; second vice-president, Mrs. Norine Hyland; recording secretary, Miss Theresa Morazzini; financial secretary, Miss Marian Fischer; treasurer, Mrs. Irene Boyle; marshal, Miss Margaret Murray; inside sentinel, Miss Georgeanne Quinlan; outside sentinel, Miss Mary Wallace; organist, Miss Isabelle Lynch. Three trustees were also named.

The institute will be formally organized at 2:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Parish Hall.

MISDEMEANOR
CASE DROPPED

A misdemeanor charge against John Colombo, which has been on the city recorder's docket during the past 14 months, was dismissed Saturday by Judge E. E. Cunningham who ordered the $200 bail returned.

Colombo was charged by C. C. Conrad with a misdemeanor on February 20, 1923. Bail fixed at $200 was furnished on February 27. Two continuances and the request for a change of venue by attorney for the defendant resulted in failure to try the case.

ing dish. Spread the crumbs over the top and bake in a moderate oven until crumbies are brown.

Boil sweet potatoes, cool and remove skins. Cut in slices. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of potatoes, sprinkle with brown sugar, a little salt, 1 tablespoon of butter cut into bits, 1 tablespoon flour; add another layer of potatoes, season as directed above, and continue until potatoes are all used. Cover with milk and bake in a moderate oven until brown. Care must be taken not to let the sugar burn.

Scalloped Meat

Cut bread in finger length strips. Place a layer in a buttered baking dish and pour over enough gravy or brown sauce to moisten. Add a layer of thinly sliced or diced meat and a tablespoonful of finely chopped onion. Repeat until dish is filled, covering top layer of meat with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven about 20 minutes.

Cottage Pie

Two cups of diced cooked meat, 1 cup gravy or sauce, 1 cup cooked peas, 1 tablespoon of grated onion, 2 cups of mashed potatoes.

Add peas and onion and sliced meat to the gravy or well-seasoned sauce. Pour into a casserole or baking dish, cover with the mashed potato. Brush the potato with slightly beaten egg or melted shortening. Brown in a hot oven.

Boston Baked Beans
Two cups small white beans, 1/4 pound fat salt pork, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 cup boiling water.

Pick over beans, wash well, cover with cold water and soak over night. In the morning drain, cover with cold water and heat slowly, keeping water below boiling point, and cook until the skins will burst. This may be determined by taking a few beans on a spoon and blowing on them. The skins will burst if beans are sufficiently cooked. Drain again, cut salt pork in two pieces, placing one piece in the bottom of the bean pot. Put beans in pot, place the other piece of pork on top of beans. Add seasoning to the boiling water and pour over beans, adding enough more boiling water to cover. Place the cover on bean pot and bake slowly about 6 hours. Add more boiling water as needed and uncover beans during last hour of baking. An earthenware bean pot produces the best results.

Tentative standards for all library training agencies and plans for accrediting such agencies are in preparation by the temporary library training board appointed by the American Library Association. This board was recently subsidized with a fund of $10,000 by the Carnegie corporation.

MARKET SUMMARY

The California canned fruit situation appears to have taken on added strength as stocks of 1923 are reduced. Cling peaches are particularly short and prices incline toward higher levels. Pears and apricots are offered less freely. Cherries are in better demand and prices are firmer. Pineapples show evidences of weakness on coast offerings. Northwestern fruits and berries are better placed.

Replacements in large contract prunes by distributors are coupled with orders for medium sizes. The tone is improved after the rally which followed the declared position of the association on prices.

The California orange market was very active in New York early this week. On Monday receipts were 57 cars. The demand was good, but owing to the heavy receipts prices ruled from 35¢ to 50¢ lower. The quality and condition were very satisfactory. Sunkist grades ranged from $2.50 to $5.40; choicer grades, $2.25 to $4.25.

California lemon sales totaled six cars. Quality and condition were good. The market was strong with prices ruling slightly higher. Quite a few cars of oranges have accumulated in San Francisco since the beginning of the week. Four arrived Tuesday, bringing the total on track to 7 broken and 8 unbroken. In addition

EARLY CANTELOUPES
PLACED ON MARKET

Cantaloupes will soon be a common sight in South San Francisco markets. A straight carload of Mexican melons arrived in San Francisco Monday for distribution in the bay region. The quality was said to be excellent for this time of year. Mexican cantaloupes have never arrived so early in the season, and when they did arrive they were very inferior to California grown melons.

tion there arrived 4 cars of Idaho potatoes and 1 each of lemons and Mexican cucumbers.

Celery from the southern extremity of California was added to the list of spring vegetable crops now reaching bay region markets.

The peak of the first 1924 strawberry crop will be reached about May 17.

DEMURRER IN SLANDER SUIT IS SUSTAINED

The demurrer of Franklin Swart, district attorney, in the suit for $10,000 for alleged slander filed against him by Daniel C. Imboden, secretary of the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce, has been sustained by Judge George H. Buck. The demurrer, filed March 22, asserted that Imboden's complaint did not state a cause of action.

"This is a demurrer to the complaint," the first paragraph of Judge Buck's opinion states. "It is general, but possibly it is sufficient to determine the matter. The charge in the complaint seems to be nothing more than a joke. It certainly seems too trivial to be brought in a court of justice."

Imboden, in his complaint filed March 12, alleged that District Attorney Swart, in a speech at Burlingame in January, had told a story to the effect that a dog good for nothing else was made a con dog. He also alleged that Swart had said, "When a man is good for nothing else was made him secretary of a chamber of commerce."

Says No Crime Charged
Judge Buck, in his opinion, said that assuming the words had been spoken, "no crime is charged, nothing more than the ability of the plaintiff is referred to." He continues: "This court fails to see how an action for damages can be maintained simply by saying that a man's capacity for certain work is somewhat limited."

LA HONDA

LA HONDA, May 1.—For the past five years William Dreyer, E. J. McKinney and William Cameron have been celebrating Henry Biote's "May Day" and birthday celebration at Bonzagni Lodge. Mr. Biote and Mr. Cameron have been with the San Francisco Chronicle for 50 years. After having lunched at Bonzagni's, the Chronicle men visited all the resorts and points of interest in the canyon.

Mrs. William Bartley gave a luncheon to a few friends at her home at Troutmere. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Barker of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Derry of Redwood City, and Mr. and Mrs. William Bartley. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sears motored down from San Francisco to spend Sunday at Sears Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bozzo of Redwood City and Mrs. Wilson of San Francisco were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Zanone.

Mr. and Mrs. Standish of Stockton spent Saturday and Sunday at their home here.

Miss Babe McKnew and mother of Burlingame were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gabrielle Sunday.

William Louza, who was called from San Diego by his father's serious illness, was here greeting old-time acquaintances. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dornback and son, Charles, Jr., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cavalli Monday.

Mrs. Sullivan and son, Clarence, were called East owing to Mr. Sullivan's serious illness. Mrs. Sullivan was employed at Bonzagni Lodge.

C. E. Olsen was given a surprise birthday party at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Dornback, at Burlingame. The rooms were decorated with American Beauty roses and pink tulips. The chief attraction on the elaborately set table was an immense birthday cake with 86 candles. Those present were the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mr. Olsen is in perfect health.

RETRIAL MOTION IS DENIED SPRECKELS IN DAMAGE SUIT

Motions for new trials made by both Louis Bosse and Rudolph Spreckels, following a $15,000 jury verdict for Bosse against Spreckels in a damage suit brought after an automobile accident were denied Friday by Judge George H. Buck.

Bosse's suit, for a total of $52,000 for injuries alleged to have been incurred last August when he was struck by an automobile, originally named Mr. and Mrs. George T. Marye, Jr., and their daughter, Helen, as defendants.

He later filed an amended complaint which included Rudolph Spreckels and his daughter Claudine as defendants. In this complaint Bosse alleged that Helen Marye was driving the automobile, which he charged belonged to Rudolph Spreckels, and that Claudine Spreckels was with Helen Marye.

When the case came to trial several weeks ago a motion for a non-suit as to Mr. and Mrs. George T. Marye was granted, when the jury later brought in its verdict for $15,000 for Bosse, only Rudolph Spreckels being named in the verdict.

Bosse's attorneys filed on April 3 a notice of intention to move for a new trial on the grounds that the failure to find any verdict either for or against the defendants, Helen Marye and Claudine Spreckels, was against the law.

On the next day, Spreckels' attorneys also asked for a new trial. Among the reasons set forth by them was that of "newly discovered evidence material for said defendant which he could not with reasonable diligence have discovered and produced at the trial," and "excessive damages appearing to have been given under the influence of passion and against said defendant."

Rufus H. Kimball, Theodore Hale and J. E. McCurdy were attorneys for Bosse and the firm of Ross & Ross for Rudolph Spreckels.

FULLER EMPLOYEE GETS VACATION

Miss Margaret Thompson, who has been employed by W. P. Fuller & Company for the last five years, is to spend a vacation of three months in Vancouver, B. C., where she will visit her mother who lives there. The many friends of Miss Thompson in the color works at the plant wish her a pleasant trip.

SAN GREGORIO

SAN GREGORIO, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Hansen and son, Theodore, of San Jose, spent Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mattee of Bellvale.

Mrs. Leon McClellan and daughter returned to their home in San Francisco after a week's stay with her sister, Mrs. E. Monteraldo. Mr. and Mrs. Driver and Will Alves were visitors to Redwood City Wednesday.

Mrs. U. J. Brotherton was taken seriously ill Wednesday but is now recovering under the care of Dr. C. V. Thompson.

Frank Alves Sr. was a visitor in the valley towns Tuesday. Mrs. Peter Petersen entertained the ladies of the Sewing Club Thursday afternoon at her home here.

George C. Ross and son, Lee, spent the week-end at the "cabin" on the Corte Madera.

John V. Souza of this place was a visitor to Pescadero Saturday.

Mr. Modena and family of this place entertained guests from San Francisco the fore part of the week. E. Montevardo and family, H. Arnold and family, Elmore Roe of this place, and Mrs. Mary Montevardo of Pescadero spent Sunday in Harrison with Mr. and Mrs. Stratton.

MAN IS INJURED IN AUTO SMASH

M. Whelan was taken to the Mills Memorial Hospital shortly after noon Wednesday, following the overturning and wrecking of his car near San Carlos. Hospital authorities at 1 o'clock said the doctors had not yet determined the extent of his injuries, and that they did not yet have his address.

Whelan's car was said to have been in a collision with a car driven by Miss Jennie T. Yale, 395 Sacramento street, San Francisco, and then to have crashed into an ornamental post by the highway. None of the occupants of the Yale car were hurt and the car was only slightly damaged.

Both cars were traveling north. Miss Yale and Mrs. Whelan, who was in her husband's car, each are reported to have asserted that their car was struck from the rear.

Tanforan Race Track Opens Saturday With Big List Of Fine Horses On Keen Edge

A meeting of Tanforan stewards is scheduled to take place this morning. General Manager John D. Stelling of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club on Monday reported the Tanforan plant in complete readiness for next Saturday's races. The track proper is in excellent shape and lightning fast. Grandstand, clubhouse and paddock have been given a thorough going over by a corps of janitors and caretakers. The entire infield is a carpet of bright wild flowers.

Coming fresh from the Tijuana races, most of the 500 horses stabled at the track are right up to racing form. They need but little work to keep them on edge. Others from nearby stock farms are being galloped more frequently.

Just how well Spread Eagle will perform in the several Tanforan stakes in which he is entered is a matter most interesting to the local friends of Archibald Johnson, son of California's senior senator. Johnson bought the four-year-old cheaply during the Tanforan meet last November, placed his training in the hands of former Jockey Chris Kirschbaum at Tijuana, and Spread Eagle shot up in class like a rocket.

At the border track the horse took some time to earn brackets in poor sprints, but finally winning routes with signal success. He took on real stakehorse class when he showed a clean set of hooves to Sunnyland, Firm Friend, Abadane and that sort. During the season he won seven purses.

Spread Eagle is entered in next Saturday's opening handicap. So are his old rivals, Sunnyland, Firm Friend, and Abadane. Just

Short Cuts to Wealth

Far too many people want diamonds, decollete gowns, tailored suits and silk shirts without first being willing to use alarm clocks, aprons, overalls and flannel shirts.

There is too much envy of wealth and too little willingness to work for it.

Those who spend freely usually end chained to their jobs. Those who regularly put money away in the bank win final freedom.

MUST HAVE NEW LICENSES

SACRAMENTO—Police and traffic officers throughout California were notified Saturday by Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, to arrest all persons caught driving without 1924 license plates after Wednesday, April 30, and seize their automobiles.

The officers were instructed to carry out the order regardless of excuses. Autoists found with the black and white plates of 1923 will not only be compelled to pay double the regular fee, but will be subject to prosecution.

VECCHIE LICENZE AUTOMOBILI

SACRAMENTO—Gli ufficiali di Polizia ed il Traffico dell'intera California sono stati notificati Sabato scorso da Will H. Marsh, capo divisione dello Stato per i veicoli a motore, di arrestare tutti gli chauffeurs conducenti macchine sprovviste delle piastre licenza del 1924 a partire da ieri 30 corrente, e confiscare altresì i loro veicoli. Ai suddetti ufficiali sono stati dati ordini di eseguire l'ordine nonostante qualunque scusa. Automobilisti sorpresi avari i loro carri muniti di piastre licenza bianche e nere del 1923 saranno obbligati non solamente pagare doppia la tassa di licenza, ma saranno ancora soggetti a procedimento giudiziale.

CITIZENSHIP VALUE AIM OF SOCIETY

Prefacing their statement of purposes with the slogan, "white supremacy," the Knights of the Christian Crusaders, a California organization, has filed articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

Facendo prefazione alla dichiarazione del loro scopo con il motto "Supremazia Bianca," un'organizzazione californiana che porta il nome "Knights of Christian Crusaders" (Cavalieri dei Crociati Cristiani), ha esibito uno statuto di articoli d'incorporazione presso l'ufficio del segretario dello Stato Frank C. Jordan. Lo scopo dell'Associazione è di istituire una segreta, patriottica e fraterna organizzazione a mezzo della quale i forestieri negli Stati Uniti vengono opportunamente ed efficacemente istruiti circa il significato, l'importanza ed i vantaggi morali e materiali che derivano essendo cittadini americani.

SOUTH S. F. HARBOR PLANS DISAPPROVED

An unfavorable report on the proposed improvement of South San Francisco harbor has been made by Col. Herbert Deakney, United States engineer, in so far as the Government is concerned. Colonel Deakney recommended the entire cost of the ship canal to Redwood City be borne by local interests, as the improvement would be of local rather than general benefit. Those interested in the work, he announced, have the right of appeal within four weeks to the Board of Rivers and Harbors in Washington.

PIANI PER IL PORTO DISAPPROVATI

Per quanto concerne l'attitudine d'interessi generali del Governo degli Stati Uniti, il Colonnello Herbert Deakney, Ingegnere Civile del Governo, ha pronunciato un rapporto sfavorevole ai propositi miglioramenti del porto di South San Francisco. Il suddetto Ingegnere degli Stati Uniti raccomanderebbe che l'intero costo del navigabile canale tra South San Francisco e Redwood City sia sostenuto da interessi locali, stante che il miglioramento verrebbe a costituire un beneficio locale piuttosto che generale. Coloro interessati nell'opera, egli annuncia, hanno diritto di quattr'anni di tempo per produrre appello al Consiglio Portuale e Riviere a Washington.

PICNIC IN CONFLITTO CAN LA FORZA

Nel pomeriggio di Domenica ebbe luogo uno spiacevole incidente tra circa 4,000 persone e lo Sheriff McGovern assistito dai suoi deputati presso il terreno di picnic di White Oak. Le 4,000 persone si erano radunate nella località, come generalmente fanno gente che lavorano duramente l'intera settimana e cercano svago e diversivo la sopratutto Domenica. Essi però non si curarono della iniezione. Contale proibendo severamente riunioni all'aperto a causa della epidemia causata dall'epizootica e si riunirono all'aperto in contravvenzione ai severi ordini emanati dall'ufficio dello Sheriff, e tampono obbedirono agli ordini personali di questi che solamente quando lo Sheriff chiamò i suoi deputati minacciando di arresto i capi di quella moltitudine. Le diverse comitive che la componevano si decisero a disperdersi. Lo Sheriff McGovern asserisce che non meno di 30,000 veicoli attraversarono la Contea di San Mateo Domenica scorsa e praticamente in ogni caso trasgredirono le disposizioni Contee per l'epidemia dell'epizootica, facilitando così la propagazione della calamità.

RECOURT PETITION FILED

Claiming possible error, a petition demanding a recount in the recent election of city officials in South San Francisco has been filed before Superior Court Judge George H. Buck by Attorney John D. CONDIZIONI EUROPEE

A. P. Giannini, Presidente della Banca d'Italia di America, ritorno Lunedì scorso al suo Ufficio dopo un'assenza di due mesi. Egli parlò per l'Italia con l'animo un po' più fiducioso che nell'anno 1922, e confessò che non avrebbe mai potuto prevedere che Mussolini in soli diciassette mesi di Governo abbia potuto realizzare quello che nessun altro uomo di stato in nessun altro paese del mondo abbia riuscito a fare. E' Giannini ha ripetuto e confermato ciò che si disse sul cammino prodigioso del Paese, sulla via nuova che vi si conduce, sulla volontà del popolo di affermarsi in tutti i campi perché sa di avere l'uomo che lo condurrà ai suoi più alti destini. Giannini fu ricevuto da Mussolini alla Prefettura di Milano proprio alla vigilia delle elezioni. Trova in Mussolini un uomo più forte del suo partito.

DEATH SUMMONS PIONEER WOMAN OF SAN MATEO

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Martel, wife of the late James L. Martel, who came to California in 1846, were held in the chapel at Cypress Lawn Cemetery Tuesday. Mrs. Martel died at her home in San Mateo last Friday.

Mrs. Martel was one of the first pioneer women of California, as she followed her husband West in 1849. She made the first part of the trip by boat and completed her journey across the Isthmus of Panama and up the coast on muleback. Mr. and Mrs. Martel settled in the San Francisco region and devoted their lives to the development of a Golden Gate metropolis.

Mrs. Martel is survived by three daughters and two sons—Adele F. Martel, Mrs. J. M. Masten, Mrs. Charles Stovel, Alfred C. and Louis S. Martel. She also leaves seven grandchildren—Robert and Alfred Martel of Mountain View, Kendall and Stewart Masten of New York City, Katherine A. Masten and Mrs. T. Rupert Mason of San Francisco, and Mrs. John Aiken Branch of Richmond, Va.
